

Harvest Season

As we gently move toward autumn, we are reminded of the wisdom found in Scripture: "For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven" (Ecclesiastes 3:1). In God's providence, not all things grow or bear fruit at the same pace.

Some things are ready to be harvested, experiences, lessons, relationships, achievements and parts of ourselves that have reached their time. We can gather what is nourishing, acknowledge what has grown, and gently let go of what we no longer need to carry.

But not everything is ready yet. Some dreams, hopes and parts of our lives may still be ripening beneath the surface. They don't need to be forced or rushed. Perhaps they simply need a little more nourishment, patience and space. Autumn invites us to pause and notice:

- What is ready to be gathered?
- What am I ready to release?
- And what still needs my care for the season ahead?

May this season grant you the humility to honour what God has cultivated in you, the courage to let go of what has served its purpose, and the faith to nurture what is still unfolding according to His loving plan.

"Be patient, therefore, beloved, until the coming of the Lord" (James 5:7) — may we all abide in His peace as we wait.

Lord of the harvest,
You who bring forth fruit in due season,
We thank You for the bounty of Your blessings.
Grant us the grace to labour faithfully in Your vineyard.
Open the hearts of those You call to reap the harvest,
That they may be filled with zeal and compassion.
Send forth labourers into Your harvest,
That all may come to know Your saving love.
Guide us, sustain us, and bless the work of our hands,
So that Your kingdom may grow and Your name be glorified.
Amen.
